Tacoma Police detectives need your help to locate a missing woman, feared to be the victim of foul play. Helen Tucker has been missing under suspicious circumstances since January of 1994.

The last known sighting of Helen Tucker occurred on the night of January 20th, 1994, when she was contacted by Tacoma Police officers after being the victim of a crime. Tucker was contacted by the officers in the 1300 block of Puyallup Ave. in the City of Tacoma. Tucker's family later reported her missing after failing to see or hear from her for an extended period of time; investigators have been unable to locate Tucker or any persons who have had contact with her since January of 1994.

At the time she went missing Helen Irene Tucker was described as a white female, 27 years old, 5'5" tall, 115 lbs., with brown hair and blue eyes. She was also known to use the name Helen Cook, and had a tattoo of a rose on both of her arms and a tattoo of a gnome on her left arm.

Detectives are looking for any information regarding Helen Tucker's disappearance and/or her whereabouts.
